

Letter of recommendation for Alida Segal

I have known Alida Segal for over 30 years. Alida is a seasoned senior computer professional with impressive academic credentials. I have known Alida as a creative, disciplined and results oriented professional. She strives to deliver best in class services (teaching assignments as well as projects) compliant with expectations in terms of timing and quality of delivery. All her teaching assignments are applications oriented as she always strives to enhance the ability of her students to function as effective IT professionals subsequent to graduating from the programs she teaches.

Alida is an instructor who tailors her teaching assignments to the required standards of the educational institution employing her while maximizing the utility that her students extract from attending her courses. She interacts with her students very effectively and understands very fast the strengths and weaknesses of her students. Her students always leave her courses better prepared than prior to having registered to her lectures.

Alida impressed me as an assertive, very intelligent and highly professional woman during our encounters.

As an NYU alumnus, I am happy to recommend Alida for any academic teaching position at my Alma Mater.

Andre Horovitz, PE, FRM

Managing Director

financial risk fitness

www.financial-risk-fitness.com

